Tax credits examinations

The check
Every year we check thousands of tax credits claims to make sure that we are:
• paying the right amount of tax credits based on customers’ income and circumstances
• running the tax credits system fairly and efficiently.
If we check your current tax credits claim, it is known as an ‘examination’.

About your check
To help us get a picture of your household, we may ask you for things like bank statements, payslips, household bills and details of your income and circumstances.
We can also ask employers and childcarers for information.
If we ask you for any original documents, including passports or other identity documents, we will return them to you securely. If we believe that any documents you send to us are not genuine, we may keep them.

If we do not hear from you
You must tell us if you cannot give us the information or explain why there is a delay.
If you do not send us the information by the date on our letter, we can reduce or stop your tax credits. You may also have to pay a penalty.

Mistakes
We will not charge you a penalty if you:
• tell us about a relevant change in circumstances in time, see opposite
• take reasonable care to give us correct information on your claim. We will not charge a penalty if you took care with your claim, but still made a mistake.

Asking someone to help you
If you would like independent help, you can ask a friend, a professional adviser or an organisation like Citizens Advice to help you. You can also ask them to talk to us on your behalf, but we cannot talk to anyone without your permission.
If you do ask someone to help you, please write to us and tell us the:
• name and address of the person, or
• address and contact details of the organisation acting on your behalf.

Co-operation
The extent to which you co-operate and give us information is entirely up to you.
If you are not sure whether to give us the information, we suggest you get independent advice before deciding what to do. We may decide to reduce or stop your tax credits payments based on the information we hold.
