Introduction

About Child Benefit
Child Benefit can be paid to people bringing up:
- a child under the age of 16, or
- a young person up to the age of 20, if they are in full-time non-advanced education or approved training.

When to claim Child Benefit
You should claim Child Benefit as soon as:
- your baby is born and registered (babies born in the UK need to be registered at the register office)
- a child comes to live with you, or
- you adopt a child (if you're in the process of adopting a child, apply for Child Benefit as soon as the child comes to live with you).

Who should claim Child Benefit?
You should fill in this claim form if you are responsible for a child. You do not need to be the parent of the child and you may be entitled to Child Benefit even if the child does not live with you. Only one person can receive Child Benefit for a child. If you or your partner already get Child Benefit, the same person normally claims for any new children.

If you are bringing up children you may not be working or paying a National Insurance contribution. If you get Child Benefit for a child under the age of 12 you will receive weekly National Insurance credits to protect your future entitlement to the basic State Pension and the State Second Pension.

If you are a couple and one of you works and pays National Insurance contributions and the other one stays at home to care for the child, the person who is not working could protect their State Pension by claiming Child Benefit.

You can claim Child Benefit no matter how much you earn or have in savings.

For your or your partner have an individual income of £50,000 or less, you will not be affected by the following even if both of your incomes add up to more than £50,000.

Child Benefit for people who have an income of more than £50,000 a year
From 7 January 2013 if either you or your partner have an individual income of more than £50,000 a year the person with the higher income will have to pay an extra Income Tax charge on some or all of the Child Benefit that you get paid. When making your claim you can choose either:
- not to have Child Benefit paid to you (if you get Child Benefit for any other children those payments will also stop) and you or your partner will not have an extra tax charge, or
- to have Child Benefit paid to you but you or your partner will need to pay an extra tax charge on the Child Benefit you receive.

The extra tax charge will be:
- 1% of the Child Benefit paid for every £100 of income received over £50,000 and up to £60,000, or a charge equal to the full amount of Child Benefit paid for income over £60,000.

If you or your partner have an individual income between £50,000 and £60,000 you may wish to be paid Child Benefit as the extra tax charge will be less than the amount of benefit you can get.

If you or your partner have to pay the extra tax charge you should register for Self Assessment if you haven't already done so. More information can be found at www.hmrc.gov.uk/sa/register.htm

It is important to complete the Child Benefit claim form even if you don't want to be paid as this can help to protect your future rights to State Pension and help your child get their National Insurance number.

You should see the detailed information and explanations at www.hmrc.gov.uk/childbenefitcharge to help you make the right decision for you.

Child Benefit for people who aren't sure if their income is more than £50,000
If you are not sure if either you or your partner have an individual income of more than £50,000 a year you should decide to be paid Child Benefit. You or your partner will be liable to an extra tax charge later if one of you does have an income of more than £50,000.

You should see the detailed information and explanations at www.hmrc.gov.uk/childbenefitcharge to help you make the right decision for you.
Questions 9 and 29 – Where do I find my (or my partner’s) National Insurance number?

This will be on:
- a P60 certificate from your employer
- a PAYE Coding Notice or a letter from us
- a payslip from your employer
- any letter from the Department for Work and Pensions or Jobcentre Plus.

Question 15

This question is about the country you have always lived in. The UK is England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland. It does not include the Isle of Man or the Channel Islands.

It doesn’t usually matter if you sometimes go to other countries on holiday or for work.

Question 16

This question is about the country you live in most of the time. The UK is England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland. It does not include the Isle of Man or the Channel Islands.

It doesn’t usually matter if you sometimes go to other countries on holiday or for work.
Questions 39 and 53
If you are not the child’s parent but you are looking after the child, you can still claim Child Benefit. Note If you have a stepchild or a legally adopted child they are counted as your own.

Questions 40 and 54
If the child lives with you but Child Benefit is being paid to someone else, in some circumstances we can transfer the benefit to you. If we do transfer the benefit, you may not get a payment of Child Benefit until four weeks (and in some cases eight weeks) after you have made your claim.

If someone else has claimed Child Benefit for the same child that you are claiming for, we will get in touch with you.

Questions 41 and 55
You should answer ‘No’ to this question if the child does not live with you in the UK. If the child lives with someone else but you pay towards the cost of looking after them and both of you claim the benefit, the person who the child lives with will usually get the Child Benefit.

Questions 43 and 57
If the child lives with more than one person, each person may claim Child Benefit for the same child. However, only one person can be paid Child Benefit. If two or more children are being cared for, Child Benefit may be paid to each person for a different child. If you cannot agree which of you is to get the Child Benefit, someone acting on behalf of the Commissioners for HM Revenue & Customs will decide.

Please note that these questions apply to all children on this claim form.
Question 62

Only answer this question if either you or your partner have an individual income of more than £50,000 a year.

It's important to claim Child Benefit to protect your State Pension.

You can decide not to be paid Child Benefit if you don't want to pay the extra tax charge. See page 2 Child Benefit for people who have an income of more than £50,000 a year.

If you are not sure of you or your partner's individual income. See page 2 Child Benefit for people who aren't sure if their income is more than £50,000.

Question 67

We can pay Child Benefit into an account that is in:

- your name
- the name of your husband, wife or partner if you have one
- the names of you and your husband, wife or partner
- the name of someone acting on your behalf or
- the names of you and a person acting on your behalf.

If you want to use an account that is not in your name, for example, your partner or another person, you may do so. It is up to you to make sure you get the money from that person.

We can't pay into:

- an account that is in a child's name, or
- more than one account
- a Nationwide account that is in someone else's name.

Question 63 and 64

Child Benefit is usually paid every four weeks. However you can choose to get your Child Benefit paid weekly if you are bringing up children on your own, or you (or your partner if you have one) are receiving:

- Income Support
- income-related Jobseeker’s Allowance
- Pension Credit, or
- income-related Employment and Support Allowance.

If you want Child Benefit to be paid weekly, tell us at question 64 why you qualify.

If you qualify and choose to get your Child Benefit paid weekly, you must tell us immediately if you stop:

- bringing up children on your own, or
- getting at least one of the above benefits.

If this happens, we may stop paying your Child Benefit weekly and change it to paying you every four weeks.

Question 69

Make sure you enter the sort code shown on your bank card or statements from your bank or building society. This is usually six digits. Please include any zeros – for example, 00 11 22.

Question 70

Your account number is usually eight digits and is shown on your statements or cheque book. Please include any zeros – for example, 00123456.

Question 71

If your account is with a building society or a bank that was a building society you may have an additional reference number. This number may be called:

- a roll number
- an account reference, or
- an account number.

If you are not sure which numbers to enter, check with your bank or building society.

If too much Child Benefit is paid into your account you will have to pay back any money you should not have been paid. For example, if you tell us something that affects how much we pay you and we do not have time to change your payment, you will have to pay back any money you should not have been paid.
Other money you may be entitled to

Tax credits
Working Tax Credit is for working people on a low income.
Child Tax Credit is for people bringing up children.
To find out what you could get, go online at www.hmrc.gov.uk/taxcredits or phone us on 0345 300 3900 or textphone on 0345 300 3909.

Other things you might need to know

National Insurance (NI) credits
Before 6 April 2010, if you received Child Benefit for a child under 16, you automatically qualified for a scheme called Home Responsibilities Protection (HRP), which helped to protect your State Pension.
From 6 April 2010, for each week that you are entitled to Child Benefit for a child under 12, you will receive weekly NI credits to protect your future entitlement to State Pension.
If you reach State Pension age on or after 6 April 2010, any complete tax years of HRP you have already built up before 2010 will be converted into qualifying years. Up to 22 years of HRP can be converted into qualifying years for State Pension.

Earnings Factor credit
Before 6 April 2010, if you received Child Benefit for a child under 6, you automatically built up entitlement to an additional pension through State Second Pension.
From 6 April 2010, for each week that you are entitled to Child Benefit for a child under 12, you will receive weekly Earnings Factor credits to protect your future entitlement to the State Second Pension.
You will be able to combine NI and Earnings Factor credits with other qualification routes, such as NI contributions, in order to build up a year of entitlement.
