Child Tax Credit and Working Tax Credit

What to do if you think our decision is wrong

This factsheet tells you how you can appeal against a Child Tax Credit or Working Tax Credit decision or penalty. If you're not happy with a tax credits decision, you may have the right to appeal. You'll normally have to appeal within 30 days of the date of our decision.

Before you appeal

It's always worth trying to reach an agreement with us before making a formal appeal. This way, if we agree our decision is wrong, we can make sure it's changed for you. If you still don't agree with our decision, you may be able to appeal, but your appeal normally still has to be within 30 days of the date of our decision.

How do you know if you can appeal?

The decision letter we sent you will tell you if you can appeal. You can appeal when:
• you think a decision is wrong
• your award doesn't take into account a change of circumstances
• your award is reduced or has stopped
• you don't agree with a penalty notice
• you've been charged interest.

Who can appeal?

Usually the person who made the claim or who's been getting the tax credits makes the appeal. If you claim as a couple, only one of you needs to make the appeal.

You can ask an independent adviser to help you. If you're an appointee and claim tax credits for someone else, you can make the appeal for them.

Deadline for appeals

Normally, you have to appeal within 30 days of the date of our decision. In special cases we'll give you more time but you need to tell us your reason for making a late appeal. We can't accept an appeal dated 13 months or more after the date of our decision. If we cannot accept your late appeal we will pass your request to an independent tribunal to decide.

Although you can't appeal against a decision asking you to pay back an overpayment:
You can dispute this if you think that we made a mistake or gave you wrong advice. You can do this by:
• filling in form TC846 Recovery of tax credits disputed (Request to reconsider), available from our helpline or website
• writing to us at the address shown under Help.

You can also ask us to look again at the repayments we've asked you to make, if you are having difficulty making the payments. Our leaflet What happens if we've paid you too much tax credits? (COP26) tells you more about this and is available from our helpline or website.

Help

If you would like more help:
• go to www.hmrc.gov.uk/taxcredits
• phone our helpline on 0845 300 3900
• textphone the helpline (for people with hearing or speech difficulties) on 0845 300 3909
• write to us at Tax Credit Office Preston PR1 0SB.

For our opening hours see www.hmrc.gov.uk/contactus

When you get in touch with us, please tell us:
• your full name
• your National Insurance number and
• a daytime phone number.

Independent advice

You can get help and free independent advice from a number of different organisations, for example:

Citizens Advice:
• for England, Wales and Northern Ireland go to www.citizensadvice.org.uk or
• for Scotland go to www.cas.org.uk

The Community Legal service:
• go to www.communitylegaladvice.org.uk
• phone 0845 345 4345.

Some of the organisations also have local offices which are listed:
• in the business section of The Phone Book
• in Yellow Pages
• at the library.

You can also get advice from:
• your trade union
• a solicitor, an accountant or a tax adviser (but you'll have to pay for this)
• TaxAid - go to www.taxaid.org.uk

If your circumstances change

If anything changes that could affect your payments, you must let us know straightway. Don't wait for the appeal hearing.

How to appeal
Your appeal needs to be in writing. You can:
- complete and send the attached appeal form to us or
- send us a letter
  - give your name
  - National Insurance number and
  - the date shown at the top of the decision
  - it will help if you write Appeal at the top of the letter.
You need to say in your appeal what you think is wrong and which decision you are appealing against. Please send your completed appeal form or letter to the address on the decision letter or the address shown under Help on page 1.

What happens next?
If we haven’t already done so, we’ll check that the decision is correct and explain it.
If we decide that:
- the original decision is wrong and
- the new decision is to your advantage
your appeal will stop.
If we decide that:
- the decision is wrong and
- the new decision is not to your advantage
your appeal will continue against the new decision.
If the original decision cannot be changed, your appeal will be sent to an independent tribunal. We’ll set out our response to your appeal, which will explain the law and the facts we used to make the decision. We’ll also send you or your representative a copy of our response.
The tribunal will be run by one of the following, depending on where you live:
- for England, Scotland and Wales – the Tribunals Service
  - go to www.tribunals.gov.uk
  - phone 020 7566 1301
- for Northern Ireland – the Appeals Service
  - go to www.dsdni.gov.uk
  - phone 028 9051 8518.

How we use your information
HM Revenue & Customs is a Data Controller under the Data Protection Act 1998. We hold information for the purposes specified in our notification to the Information Commissioner, including the assessment and collection of tax and duties, the payment of benefits and the prevention and detection of crime, and may use this information for any of them. We may get information about you from others, or we may give information to them.
If we do, it will only be as the law permits to:
- check the accuracy of information
- prevent or detect crime
- protect public funds.
We may check information we receive about you with what is already in our records. This can include information provided by you, as well as by others, such as other government departments or agencies and overseas tax and customs authorities. We will not give information to anyone outside HM Revenue & Customs unless the law permits us to do so. For more information go to www.hmrc.gov.uk and look for Data Protection Act within the Search facility.

Your rights and obligations
Your Charter explains what you can expect from us and what we can expect from you. For more information go to www.hmrc.gov.uk/charter

Withdrawing the appeal
You can withdraw your appeal at any time by:
- phoning our helpline
- writing to us at the address on the decision letter or the address shown under Help on page 1
- contacting the Appeals Service or Tribunals Service that is dealing with your appeal, if your appeal has been sent to them.
